ABOUT THE BRAND PERFORMANCE CHECK

Fair Wear Foundation believes that improving conditions for apparel product location workers requires change at many levels. Traditional efforts to improve conditions focus primarily on the product location. FWF, however, believes that the management decisions of clothing brands have an enormous influence for good or ill on product location conditions.

FWF's Brand Performance Check is a tool to evaluate and report on the activities of FWF's member companies. The Checks examine how member company management systems support FWF's Code of Labour Practices. They evaluate the parts of member company supply chains where clothing is assembled. This is the most labour intensive part of garment supply chains, and where brands can have the most influence over working conditions.

In most apparel supply chains, clothing brands do not own product locations, and most product locations work for many different brands. This means that in most cases FWF member companies have influence, but not direct control, over working conditions. As a result, the Brand Performance Checks focus primarily on verifying the efforts of member companies. Outcomes at the product location level are assessed via audits and complaint reports, however the complexity of the supply chains means that even the best efforts of FWF member companies cannot guarantee results.

Even if outcomes at the product location level cannot be guaranteed, the importance of good management practices by member companies cannot be understated. Even one concerned customer at a product location can have significant positive impacts on a range of issues like health and safety conditions or freedom of association. And if one customer at a product location can demonstrate that improvements are possible, other customers no longer have an excuse not to act. The development and sharing of these types of best practices has long been a core part of FWF's work.

The Brand Performance Check system is designed to accommodate the range of structures and strengths that different companies have, and reflects the different ways that brands can support better working conditions.

This report is based on interviews with member company employees who play important roles in the management of supply chains, and a variety of documentation sources, financial records, supplier data. The findings from the Brand Performance Check are summarized and published at www.fairwear.org. The online Brand Performance Check Guide provides more information about the indicators.

Summary:

Stanley & Stella S.A. (hereafter Stanley & Stella) meets FWF's requirements regarding the implementation of FWF's Code of Labour Practices and goes beyond. Stanley & Stella has monitored 100% of its production in the last three years. The brand purchases over 90% of its production volume from suppliers where it has significant leverage. Stanley & Stella has a stable supplier base and tries to establish long term business relationships with current suppliers.

Over 90% of Stanley & Stella' products are made in Bangladesh. The local office visits the factories frequently to prevent unauthorised subcontracting and follow up on corrective action plans from FWF audit reports. Stanley & Stella meets FWF's requirements on establishing an enhanced monitoring system. The local Bangladesh office urges and supports the factories to improve fire and building safety based on inspection reports of the Bangladesh Fire and Building Safety Accord. All factories supplying Stanley & Stella have participated in FWF's factory management training on safety. Two factories have set up functional anti-harassment committees. Committee members negotiate with factory management to handle workplace grievances using internal process.

In the next financial year, Stanley & Stella is recommended to take a step further to work towards payment of living wages and addressing excessive overtime at the suppliers, especially where it has high leverage and stable working relationship. Stanley & Stella is encouraged to gain more insights of labour cost per product in order to take steps forward in paying living wages.

PERFORMANCE CATEGORY OVERVIEW

Leader: This category is for member companies who are doing exceptionally well, and are operating at an advanced level. Leaders show best practices in complex areas such as living wages and freedom of association.

Good: It is FWF's belief that member companies who are making a serious effort to implement the Code of Labour Practices—the vast majority of FWF member companies—are 'doing good' and deserve to be recognized as such. They are also doing more than the average clothing company, and have allowed their internal processes to be examined and publicly reported on by an independent NGO. The majority of member companies will receive a 'Good' rating.

Needs Improvement: Member companies are most likely to find themselves in this category when major unexpected problems have arisen, or if they are unable or unwilling to seriously work towards CoLP implementation. Member companies may be in this category for one year only after which they should either move up to Good, or will be moved to suspended.

Suspended: Member companies who either fail to meet one of the Basic Requirements, have had major internal changes which means membership must be put on hold for a maximum of one year, or have been in Needs Improvement for more than one year. Member companies may remain in this category for one year maximum, after which termination proceedings will come into force.

Categories are calculated based on a combination of benchmarking score and the percentage of own production under monitoring. The specific requirements for each category are outlined in the Brand Performance Check Guide.

1. PURCHASING PRACTICES

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.1a Percentage of production volume from production locations where member company buys at least 10% of production capacity.	90%	Member companies with less than 10% of a production location's production capacity generally have limited influence on production location managers to make changes.	Supplier information provided by member company.	4	4	0

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.1b Percentage of production volume from production locations where member company buys less than 2% of its total FOB.	2%	FWF provides incentives to clothing brands to consolidate their supplier base, especially at the tail end, as much as possible, and rewards those members who have a small tail end. Shortening the tail end reduces social compliance risks and enhances the impact of efficient use of capital and remediation efforts.	Production location information as provided to FWF.	3	4	0

1.2 Percentage of production volume from production locations where a business relationship has existed for at least five years.	27%	Stable business relationships support most aspects of the Code of Labour Practices, and give production locations a reason to invest in improving working conditions.	Supplier information provided by member company.	2	4	0

Recommendation: Stanley & Stella is recommended to continue its business relation with existing suppliers to build long term relationships.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.3 All new production locations are required to sign and return the questionnaire with the Code of Labour Practices before first bulk orders are placed.	No new production locations added in past financial year	The CoLP is the foundation of all work between production locations and brands, and the first step in developing a commitment to improvements.	Signed CoLPs are on file.	N/A	2	0

Comment: Stanley & Stella prefers to work with existing suppliers. It did not have any new production locations in 2016.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.4 Member company conducts human rights due diligence at all new production locations before placing orders.	No new production locations added in past financial year	Due diligence helps to identify, prevent and mitigate potential human rights problems at new suppliers.	Documentation may include pre-audits, existing audits, other types of risk assessments.	N/A	4	0

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.5 Production location compliance with Code of Labour Practices is evaluated in a systematic manner.	Yes, and leads to production decisions	A systemic approach is required to integrate social compliance into normal business processes, and supports good decisionmaking.	Documentation of systemic approach: rating systems, checklists, databases, etc.	2	2	0

Comment: Stanley & Stella holds quality control meetings monthly to discuss performance of suppliers. Sustainability is a crucial part of the discussion, especially on health and safety and harassment in the workplace. In addition to FWF audits, Stanley & Stella also collects data on wages and working hours to track performance of suppliers.

Factories' willingness to collaborate and continuous improvements are criteria for being suppliers of Stanley & Stella. In 2016, Stanley & Stella has phased out a supplier because of their reluctance to discuss on remediation after audits. Stanley & Stella had lower leverage at the supplier. The supplier did not want to join WEP and refused to be transparent to FWF audit team. After two years of negotiation, Stanley & Stella decided to leave the supplier.

1.6 The member company's production planning systems support reasonable working hours.	Strong, integrated systems in place.	Member company production planning systems can have a significant impact on the levels of excessive overtime at production locations.	Documentation of robust planning systems.	4	4	0

Comment: Stanley & Stella makes production plannings together with suppliers. Regular forecasting is announced six month in advance. The production forecasting is updated every month. If suppliers do not agree with the deadline of an order, they can negotiate with Stanley & Stella.

Most orders produced by Stanley & Stella are for stock purposes. Therefore, Stanley & Stella does allow a certain degree of delay. Local office of Stanley & Stella visits the suppliers weekly and makes sure production process status is updated and shared with the headquarter.

Stanley & Stella is aware that material delays are usually the cause of production delays, which might result in excessive overtime at factories. When encountering significant yarn delay, Stanley & Stella has a policy to use airfreight on its own costs to help suppliers meeting the deadline.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.7 Degree to which member company mitigates root causes of excessive overtime.	Intermediate efforts	Some production delays are outside of the control of member companies; however there are a number of steps that can be taken to address production delays without resorting to excessive overtime.	Evidence of how member responds to excessive overtime and strategies that help reduce the risk of excessive overtime, such as: root cause analysis, reports, correspondence with factories, etc.	3	6	0

Comment: Stanley & Stella acknowledge that long working hours is a common compliance issue in the garment supply chain. Thus the company prefers to work with FWF audit team to make sure excessive overtime is found. FWF has audited three factories supplying Stanley & Stella. Overtime work at audited factories are about average comparing to other factories in the countries - 70-85 total working hours per week in Bangladesh; 60-65 hours per week in China. FWF audits have observed a slight reduction (5-10%) in overtime hours at one factory in Bangladesh. At all three audited factories, the management commented that Stanley & Stella did not cause overtime.

Stanley & Stella is of the opinion that the most common cause of excessive overtime is capacity overbook at the factories. Better planning at factory level could help reducing overtime. In order to support suppliers, Stanley & Stella uses the following strategies:

- Plan production and lead time in advance together with suppliers;
- Frequent communication with suppliers and help them on factory production planning, especially when there is energy shortage in the country.
- Allow some delay in production and do not penalise suppliers for delays.

Recommendation: Stanley & Stella is recommended to conduct overtime root causes analysis at brand level and at factory level to find out more. When assessing capacity of factories, the brand should make sure the capacity is based on regular working hours. Only when overtime root causes are addressed, it is possible to reduce overtime at the factories.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.8 Member company's pricing policy allows for payment of at least the legal minimum wages in production countries.	Country-level policy	The first step towards ensuring the payment of minimum wages - and towards implementation of living wages - is to know the labour costs of garments.	Formal systems to calculate labour costs on per-product or country/city level.	2	4	0

Comment: Stanley & Stella does not use labour minute cost to calculate price of orders. Suppliers usually offer a lump-sum price for Stanley & Stella to consider. Stanley & Stella knows minimum wages in the areas where they produce. Stanley & Stella also collect and compare wage data at suppliers to find out the exact total payment of workers.

Recommendation: When Stanley&Stella is able to investigate further and determine more precisely the labour minute costs for its products, it should have a better understanding whether its FOB prices support payment of at least minimum wages, and moving towards living wages.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.9 Member company actively responds if suppliers fail to pay legal minimum wages.	No minimum wage problems reported	If a supplier fails to pay minimum wage, FWF member companies are expected to hold management of the supplier accountable for respecting local labour law.	Complaint reports, CAPs, additional emails, FWF audit reports or other documents that show minimum wage issue is reported/resolved.	2	2	-2

Comment: All three suppliers audited by FWF in 2016 pay at least minimum wages to workers.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.10 Evidence of late payments to suppliers by member company.	No	Late payments to suppliers can have a negative impact on production locations and their ability to pay workers on time. Most garment workers have minimal savings, and even a brief delay in payments can cause serious problems.	Based on a complaint or audit report; review of production location and member company financial documents.	0	0	-1

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.11 Degree to which member company assesses root causes of wages lower than living wages with suppliers and takes steps towards the implementation of living wages.	Production location level approach	Sustained progress towards living wages requires adjustments to member companies' policies.	Documentation of policy assessments and/or concrete progress towards living wages.	4	8	0

Comment: Stanley & Stella discuss with factories on wages using wage ladders in audit reports. On its own initiative, Stanley & Stella also conducts research at suppliers to find out more about payments of wages. Stanley & Stella is in the process of analysing root causes of wages lower than living wages.

Recommendation: Fair Wear Foundation encourages Stanley&Stella to discuss with suppliers about possibilities to work towards higher benchmarks of living wages. Stanley & Stella could consider to join FWF's living wage challenge project to advance towards paying living wage.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS	RESULT	RELEVANCE OF INDICATOR	DOCUMENTATION	SCORE	MAX	MIN
1.12 Percentage of production volume from factories owned by the member company (bonus indicator).	None	Owning a supplier increases the accountability and reduces the risk of unexpected CoLP violations. Given these advantages, this is a bonus indicator. Extra points are possible, but the indicator will not negatively affect an member company's score.	Supplier information provided by member company.	N/A	2	0

CAP-related documentation including status of findings, documentation of remediation and follow up actions taken by member. Reports of quality assessments. Evidence of understanding relevant issues.	6	8	-2

Comment: Stanley & Stella uses exclusively FWF audit teams to conduct audits at their suppliers. The company has a local office in Bangladesh which is responsible to follow up on the corrective action plans (CAPs). Besides asking factory management to voluntarily report remediation process, Stanley & Stella local office also checks and confirms the status. Issues on overtime and wages are more difficult to solve. Stanley & Stella maintains a dialogue with factory management in order to make improvement gradually. FWF country representative is frequently consulted to support the remediation process.

Stanley & Stella uses FWF audit team to identify issues regarding working conditions and possible subcontractors. Although not a signatory of the Bangladesh Accord on Fire and Building Safety, all Stanley & Stella's suppliers are audited by the Accord and have been in the process of remediation. Stanley & Stella has collected safety inspection reports and discussed with suppliers on follow-up actions. All Stanley & Stella suppliers have joined the management workshop organised by FWF on raising awareness on fire and building safety. Three of Stanley & Stella's suppliers have set up anti-harassment systems with the help of the member company and FWF local training team. The anti-harassment committees at two of the suppliers have been functional.
